CAREER AND LEADERSHIP PROGRAMS

Keynote

Alex King | Georgia TSA Alumni and previous National TSA President

Alex King is no stranger to the CTSO world. As a Georgia native he is a 3-time CTSO State Officer and served as the National President for a CTSO. With all the time he spent leading a student organization, he has developed a passion for advocating for CTE on the state and federal level. The energy, enthusiasm and CTE knowledge he brings has launched him into the role he holds now as a State Officer Coach.

Alex is finishing up a degree in Organizational Leadership with a concentration in nonprofit management from Columbus State University. He continues to use all his skills to prepare the leaders of today to tackle the issues of tomorrow's workforce. Alex believes real change happens through cultivating impactful and intentional relationships that produce real and relevant results.

Alex will be speaking about how he has taken the skills and abilities he gained as a CTSO member and officer and used them to tap into his natural talents in his chosen career path.

Additionally, he is dedicated to formulating comprehensive nationwide plans aimed at ensuring student safety within educational environments.

Nathaniel's Workshop Title: "And You Thought School Was Tough..."

Let's face it - middle and high school can feel like an uphill battle at times. But guess what? Every challenge you conquer along the way makes you stronger, more resilient, and ready to take on anything life throws your way. The grit and strength you gain from this journey can prepare you to not just survive, but thrive through both the expected and unexpected. Join us for an unforgettable session where you'll dive into the insane yet incredible journey of Nathaniel who, just like you, faced unimaginable obstacles as a student and emerged stronger than ever. Discover how Nathaniel not only survived, but thrived, thanks to the leadership skills he cultivated during his middle and high school years. You'll leave this workshop feeling inspired, empowered, and equipped to navigate the tough moments both in school and in life.
